Honeywell Announces Retirement of PC42D and PC42T SKUs with Launch of New PC42D and PC42T Plus SKUs Offering Printing Speed Upgrade

This notice serves as the formal communication that Honeywell Safety and Productivity Solutions offers maximum printing speed upgrade for both the PC42D and PC42T Plus new SKUs.

The new PC42D is able to print out labels with default speed of 6 inches per second (ips), compared to 4ips with the previous version. Using Honeywell supported media (contact your local support for more details) can improve productivity of the PC42D which could reach a maximum print speed of 8ips.

The maximum printing speed of the PC42T Plus is upgraded to 5 ips (which needs to be supported by Honeywell media), compared to 4ips with the previous version of the PC42T. The default printing speed of the PC42T Plus is 4ips.

With the launch of new SKUs of the PC42D and PC42T Plus, the existing PC42D and PC42T SKUs will retire with the schedule planned in this notice.

RETIRED PART NUMBERS

This announcement will serve as the formal communication that the following SKUs will no longer be available for resale in accordance with the Service Timeline (shown below).

SERVICE

Best Practices – Preparing for Service Retirement:

- Plan – Proactively plan a technology refresh. The earlier you plan, the easier it is to protect your current assets, budget for the future, and adopt new technology.
- Protect – Purchase a service contract that will protect your mission critical assets and your bottom line by providing predictable repair costs, preventative maintenance, and updates to software and firmware.
- Extend – Extend your current contract and manage your assets to the end of their useful life.
